

This photo shows an example of a background made by tissue paper. This is what students create before making the portrait that sits on top.