

Love is a swimming pool with a wild bear in it

Detail: These chlorinated waters just don't feel the same as the water from a mountain lake.

Detail: There are plastic pool toys sharing this water with me instead of delicious rainbow trout and freshwater salmon.

Detail: The hills I can see from here might have crystalline lakes but I really am relaxed and enjoying this swimming pool water.

Detail: The gentle warmth of this heated water soothes my huge muscles, and my massive paws are starting to prune from the moisture.

Detail: My thick, black fur is going to end up clogging these poor people's pool filter.
