

WHAT CAN I DO WITH $20?

$20 is a burger and a movie.

$20(2) is dinner for two, but  $$20^2$  is food for a month.

$20(3) is tickets to Phantom, but  $$20^3$  is seeing the Paris Opera House.

$20(4) is a new bike, but  $$20^4$  is a new car.

$20(5) is a tent for camping, but  $$20^5$  is a Hollywood mansion.

$20(6) is winning the football pool, but  $$20^6$  is winning Megabucks.

$20(7) is a season pass to Wild Island, but  $$20^7$  is buying my own island.

$20(8) is a college textbook, but  $$20^8$  is a college education for all Washoe County students.

$20(9) is a few days work at minimum wage, but  $$20^9$  is I'm the richest person in the world.

$20(10) is passing go in Monopoly, but  $$20^{10}$  is getting the U.S. out of debt.

That's what I can do with $20.
