

Plot Pre-Write

What setting did you pick?	What character did you pick?	What conflict did you pick?
----------------------------	------------------------------	-----------------------------

A story with a thoughtful and thorough plot should have at least three events that happen during the story.

What will be the first event that happens in this plot? Describe it in this box.
When you write your draft, will you be able to describe this event with a minimum of four interesting sentences?

What will be the second event that happens in this plot? Describe it in this box.
When you write your draft, will you be able to describe this event with a minimum of four interesting sentences?

What will be the third event that happens in this plot? Describe it in this box.
When you write your draft, will you be able to describe this event with a minimum of four interesting sentences?

Transition Words and Phrases to use when you write:
Circle five or six transitions from this list to use somewhere in your plot story: