

Writer's name:

Imitating David Shannon's No, David!

Student Instructions: Today you will be pre-planning your own picture book inspired by David Shannon's No, David! Use the on-line word game at WritingFix to help inspire you with ideas for Interjections you can use and character names you can use.

Interjection: Write the interjection you plan to use in this box. If you want to choose two interjections, you can.

Character's Name: Write your story's character's name in this box.

First half of your book...write five or six different quotes that use just your Interjection(s) and your Character's Name. For example: 1) "No, David!" 2) "David! No! No! No!" 3) "David, no! David!"

Punctuate your quotations as correctly as you can. Have a friend look over your punctuation.

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.

Second half of your book...come up with four or five other quotations that might be said to your character. Interjections are optional. Look at the second half of No, David! for ideas.

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.