

Choose a form of writing from the Modes of Learning Menu

Learning Mode	Form	Example	Your Quick Write
auditory	Dialog	like... or My Entire Football Career by David Bauer on page 33 Learning How to Be a Boy by James Howe on page 119	Nuggets of Dialog Scripted Dialog
	Poetry	like... or Guide for Guys by Douglas Florian on page 72 Boys are Big Experts by Jack Prelutsky on page 195	Poetic Advice Experts Poem verbal	Narrative	like... or My Maturity, in Flames by M. T. Anderson on page 15 My French Teacher Tried to Kill Me by Anthony Horowitz on page 117	A Disaster Fantasy Expository	like... or Guy Things by Gordon Kormon on page 137 It All Began with Books by Christopher Paolini on page 180	Great Things It All Began With...
tactile/kinesthetic	Illustration	like... or I Was Young in the Old Days by Paul O. Zelinsky on page 270	What If, Illustrated visual	Comics	like... or Lightning Man by Jarrett J. Krosoczka on page 121 Any Questions, Class? By Matt Groening	Fantasy Comic True Comic Relief
	Illustration	like... or Peter Sis on page 200 Conduct by Rick Telander on page 243	Worth a Thousand The Story Behind... spatial	Comics	like... or Brett Helquist on page 77 Aw, Nuts! by Mo Willems on page 262	What Do You Say? My Comic Life
	List	like... or The Rules by Esquire on page 69 GUYmanifesto--Who We Are! by Darren Shan on page 217	Rule Number 1 The Way Things Are