

Name:

School Song Parodies
A WritingFix Writing Lesson

Song I will parody:

Topic for my song:

Write the original words of the song you are parodying below:

Write your parodied song below. Be sure your new words can be sung to the old tune:

--	--

Name: Example for the Overhead

School Song Parodies
A WritingFix Writing Lesson

Song I will parody: Battle Hymn of the Republic	Topic for my song: The Last Day of School
Write the original words of the song you are parodying below:	Write your parodied song below. Be sure your new words can be sung to the old tune:
Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord; He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored; He hath loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword; His truth is marching on. Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! Glory! Glory! Hallelujah! His truth is marching on.	Mine eyes have seen the glory of the burning of the school. We have tortured all the teachers. We have broken all the rules. We have bound and gagged the principal and tossed him in the pool. Our school goes marching on! Glory, glory, hallelujah, The teacher hit me with a ruler. I hit her in the bean with a rotten tangerine, and she ain't gonna teach no more!